

Ekosem-Agrar AG: Supervisory Board appoints new Chief Financial Officer

Walldorf, 21 December 2022 - At today's meeting, the Supervisory Board of Ekosem-Agrar AG appointed Mr. Alexander Krastilevskiy as a new member of the Executive Board (CFO) of Ekosem-Agrar AG. He will succeed Wolfgang Bläsi, who will leave at the end of 2022 as announced in July this year, but will remain active as a consultant for Ekosem-Agrar Group, particularly for capital market and legal issues in Germany.

Alexander Krastilevskiy was most recently CFO of a division of SUEK Group, the largest Russian coal producer, and previously experienced as vice-president in the largest Russian crude oil producer and one of the world's largest energy companies. He has more than 20 years of experience in senior management positions in Russia in various industries with international focus and has been with the EkoNiva Group since April 2022.

Rolf Zürn, Chairman of the Supervisory Board of Ekosem-Agrar AG: "We are very pleased with the new appointment to the Executive Board. Alexander Krastilevskiy has already demonstrated his financial and management expertise in his first few months with the group, and we are confident that he will maneuver Ekosem-Agrar AG well through these challenging times as CFO. At the same time, the fact that we were able to win Wolfgang Bläsi as an advisor to ensure continuity, especially with regard to capital market issues in Germany, was an important component of this change in management for us."
